

Exhibitor registration

The XVth edition of the Rayons X et Matière conference will take place in Bordeaux, in the heart of the historic city, with the goodwill of the French Crystallography Association (AFC), the French Society of Mineralogy and Crystallography (SFMC), the French Society of Metallurgy and Materials (SF2M) and the Bordeaux Crystallography Association (ABC).

This French-speaking scientific symposium brings together more than 200 participants and around thirty exhibitors and covers the different aspects of the interaction between X-ray radiation and matter. A special emphasis is placed on recent instrumental and methodological developments, in the laboratory, industry and on large-scale facility instruments.

Among other things, it also brings together scientists from the fields of X-ray diffraction, X-ray scattering, X-ray tomography, X-ray imaging, reflectometry, X-ray fluorescence, X-ray emission, X-ray spectroscopy. The multidisciplinary character of the conference makes it a place for meetings and exchanges, for both academic research laboratories and industry.

Hence, "Rayons X et Matière" will put into the light technological advances with applications in various disciplines, such as physics, chemistry, metallurgy, geosciences, materials for health and environmental sciences. Particular attention will be given to cultural heritage materials.

Located at the heart of the event, a more than 1200 m<sup>2</sup> area hosts an exhibition of scientific equipment for laboratories, large instruments and industry where suppliers have the opportunity to meet their customers or partners in order to present their new instruments and products.

The 2023 edition of the Rayons X et Matière symposium will take place at the Cité Mondiale Congress Center, located in the heart of the Chartrons district in Bordeaux, facing the banks of the Garonne. This institution offers an ideal infrastructure to host "Rayons X and Matter". The conference rooms are located around a large exhibition hall, which allows to bring all together the exhibitor's booths, poster locations and all catering services.

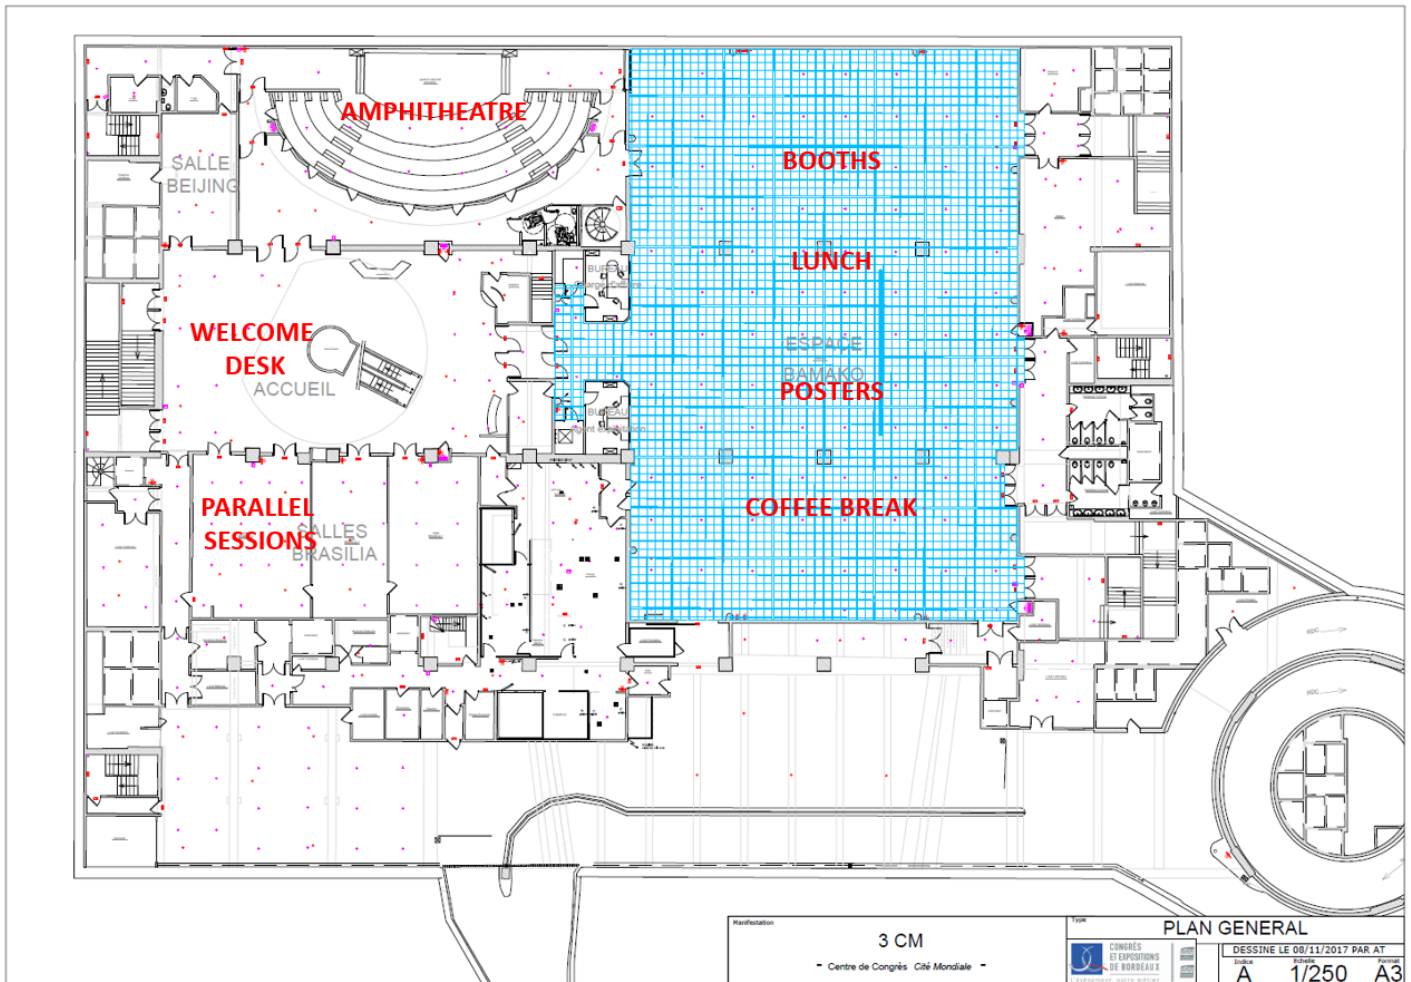

Companies interested in the exhibition are invited to complete the registration form available directly on the conference website (Exhibitor form) or in hard copy at the end of this document.

Do not hesitate to contact us via the email address "contact-exposant-2023@rayonsxetmatiere.org" to obtain more information on the exhibition sequence.

Plan of the premises and planned location:

A large hall of more than 1200 m<sup>2</sup>, next to the conference rooms, will host in the same place the scientific equipment manufacturers and exhibitors' booths, as well as poster sessions, coffee breaks and lunches. Hence, exchanges between manufacturers and attendees will be highly promoted.

The exhibition area will also host a welcome cocktail on Tuesday evening. The exhibitor booths will thus occupy a central place throughout the symposium.
