

Exhibitor registration

The XVIth edition of the « Rayons X et Matière » conference will take place in ORLEANS (FRANCE), with the support of the French Crystallography Association (AFC), the French Society of Mineralogy and Crystallography (SFMC) and the French Society of Metallurgy and Materials (SF2M).

This francophone symposium attracts more than 200 participants and around twenty exhibitors and covers the different aspects of the interaction between X-ray radiation and matter, focusing on recent instrumental and methodological developments in laboratory, industry and on large-scale facility instruments.

It brings together scientists from the fields of X-ray diffraction, X-ray scattering, X-ray tomography, X-ray imaging, reflectometry, X-ray fluorescence, X-ray emission, and X-ray spectroscopy. The multidisciplinary character of the conference makes it a place for meetings and exchanges, for both academic research laboratories and industry.

Hence, “Rayons X et Matière” will highlight technological advances with applications in various disciplines, such as physics, chemistry, metallurgy, geosciences and environmental sciences.

Located at the heart of the event, over an area of 1200 m², an exhibition of scientific equipment for laboratories, large instruments and industry will enable companies to meet their customers or partners and present their new instruments and products.

The 2025 edition of the Rayons X et Matière symposium will be held at the Orléans Conference Centre, located in the heart of the city. This complex offers an ideal infrastructure for hosting “Rayons X et Matière”. The conference rooms are located around a large exhibition hall, which allows to bring all together the exhibitor's booths, poster locations and all catering services.

Companies interested in the exhibition are invited to complete the registration form available directly on the conference website (Exhibitor form) or in hard copy at the end of this document.

Do not hesitate to contact us via the email address “ contact-exposant-2025@rayonsxetmatiere.org ” to obtain more information on the exhibition.

Plan of the premises and planned location:

A large hall of 1200 m², next to the conference rooms, will host in the same place the scientific equipment manufacturers and exhibitors' booths, as well as poster sessions, coffee breaks and lunches. Hence, exchanges between manufacturers and attendees will be strongly promoted.

The exhibition area will also host a welcome cocktail on Tuesday evening. The exhibitor booths will thus occupy a central place throughout the symposium.
